

Virtual National Roundtable: Gender-based violence and the spread of racism against non-status, refugee and immigrant women in the context of COVID-19

 Date: May 28, 2020

 Time: 2:00 - 4:00 PM (EST)

As the COVID-19 pandemic continues to evolve, racial inequities are magnified and we are witnessing the increasing spread of racism and xenophobia across the globe. How does this virus-related racism intersect with gender-based violence against non-status, refugee and immigrant women across Canada?

We are learning about the devastating impacts of racializing the virus on communities across Canada, what is the role of racism in this crisis and how does this affect responses to GBV against non-status, refugee and immigrant women across Canada?

Join our national roundtable discussion to consider the importance of a racial gendered lens to address and prevent GBV against non-status, refugee and immigrant women across Canada in the context of COVID-19!

 This Virtual Roundtable is organized by the Building Leadership Capacity to Address GBV against Non-Status, Refugee and Immigrant Women across Canada project.

This national project is led by the Ontario Council of Agencies Serving Immigrants, in partnership with Barbra Schliefer Commemorative Clinic, Islamic Family and Social Services Association, Immigrant Women Services of Ottawa, The Migrant Mothers Project, MOSAIC, New Brunswick Multicultural Association, Rights of Non Status Women's Network and the Sexual Assault Centre of Edmonton.
