Incorporation - legislation

The process of establishing a legal entity, separate from its members or shareholders

- Provides legal protection, as it is the “corporation” that does things, not individual members, so it is the corporation that gets taken to court!
- Facilitates contracting – for financial services, for premises, for supplies etc. – as the corporation continues regardless of membership changes

Incorporation can be under …

1. Federal legislation:

   Canada Not-for-Profit Corporations Act (CNCA)

2. Provincial legislation

   Ontario – Corporations Act (OCA)
Incorporation - legislation

Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act

Modern legislation (2009)
Single regulator for corporate changes
Electronic filing / retrieval
$250K audit exemption limit
Stable & known

Ontario Corporations Act

Dated, adapted legislation (1990)
Public Guardian & Trustee also involved
Paper/microfiche filing / retrieval
$100K audit exemption limit

uncertain!
Subject to replacement ("ONCA")
Letters Patent granted under the current provincial Corporations Act (OCA)

Certificate of Incorporation granted under the Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act (CNCA)

Certificate of Continuance granted under the Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act (CNCA) to organizations originally incorporated under the OCA

…annexed to which are the Articles
The corporation’s Articles set out key information including:

- The classes of membership & their voting rights
- The number of directors or the minimum / maximum numbers
- The “purposes” (previously “objects”) of the corporation
- Any restrictions on its activities
Incorporation – Not for Profit, Charity

Not-for-profit
“An organization organized and operated exclusively for social welfare, civic improvement, pleasure, sport, recreation, or any other purpose except profit (e.g. a club, society, or association). The organization will generally be exempt from tax if no part of its income is payable to, or available for, the personal benefit of a proprietor, member or shareholder.”

Charity
“An organization established & operated for charitable purposes that devotes its resources to charitable activities. Its purposes must fall within one or more of the following categories:
- the relief of poverty;
- the advancement of education;
- the advancement of religion;
- certain other purposes that benefit the community in a way the courts have said is charitable.
It must be resident in Canada and cannot use its income to benefit its members.”

Incorporation – Charity

What are the advantages of being a registered charity?
The primary advantages of being a registered charity are:

- Registration allows an organization to issue official receipts for gifts it receives. This reduces the individual donor’s income tax payable, and reduces the taxable income of a corporate donor.
- Once the organization is registered, it is exempt from paying income tax under Part I of the Act.
- Eligible to receive gifts from other registered charities, such as foundations.
- Increased credibility in the community, as registered charities must follow rules and guidelines.

Some Disadvantages

- More demanding bookkeeping
- More reporting
- Required spending

Four different legal environments:

- CNCA - Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act
- NFP
- CNCA
- NFP/Charity
- OCA - Ontario Corporations Act
- NFP

Follow the Rules

Duty to comply

(2) Every director and officer of a corporation shall comply with
(a) this Act and the regulations; and
(b) the articles, the by-laws and any unanimous member agreement.

s. 148 (2) Canada Not-for-Profit Corporations Act
Where do you find the Board’s Rules?

Externally imposed
1. The laws of the land, including the relevant legislation covering incorporation: e.g. Ontario Corporations Act, Canada Not-for-Profit Incorporations Act, Charities Accounting Act, Income Tax Act

Internally imposed
1. “Constituting documents” (i) Articles (e.g. purposes/objects of incorporation) (ii) By-laws;
2. Policies and procedures.
Rules Externally imposed

Framework set by legislation

Typically regulates membership & powers, meeting notices, record keeping & audit requirements, and Board composition. Also imposes duties and responsibilities on directors.

Rules Internally imposed

Framework set by Articles (Purposes / Objects), By-laws, Policies and Procedures

Specify limits and operating requirements … are drafted by the organization itself.

- Human Resources Management – ED
- Financial Management (e.g. approval of annual budget and financial statements)
- Material Transactions Oversight (e.g. purchase of property, closing of programs)
- Service Quality Oversight
- Stakeholder Management
The Board and the ED work in partnership, each focused on their own responsibilities

- Board – governance
- ED - operations
Quiz

1. Where can you find your agency’s internally imposed rules?
2. What are some of your Board’s responsibilities?
3. What is the primary difference between Board and ED roles?
   a. Hiring and firing a program supervisor is a Board responsibility ... true or false?
   b. Approval of the annual budget is an ED responsibility ... true or false?
   c. Approval of a Staff Harassment Policy is an ED responsibility ... true or false?
Module 3 – The Director

a. Fiduciary Duty

b. Individual accountability
Directors of a non-profit have a fiduciary duty of care and loyalty to act in the best interests of the corporation.

Fiduciary duty places a director in a legal and ethical obligation of trust: directors act primarily for the benefit of others served by the corporation.
Duties of directors and officers

148. (1) Every director and officer of a corporation in exercising their powers and discharging their duties shall

(a) act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the corporation; and

(b) exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.
Duty of Care includes stewardship of the corporation to ensure that the assets are effectively used.

Duty of Care requires a board director to:

- act honestly
- act diligently
- exercise power appropriately
- act obediently
Historically, the Ontario Corporations Act standard of care was subjective – what is reasonable given the knowledge & experience of the director concerned. Individual directors could be held to different standards depending on professional qualifications and experience. (e.g., a lawyer would be held to a higher standard than a clerk)

Under the Canada Not for Profit Corporations Act and now the Ontario Corporations Act (following an amendment), the standard of care is objective – what is reasonable given the nature of the organization and the expectation regarding skills and expertise. Individual directors are held to the same standard.
Honesty – acting truthfully in word and deed

Diligence – becoming knowledgeable of the organization, reading Board materials, attending meetings and participating fully in discussion and decision-making

Power - exercising decision-making appropriately to further corporate goals and objectives - not succumbing to inaction or inattention

Obedience – complying with applicable laws and the corporation’s governing documents (e.g. policies, procedures), and supporting implementation of decisions
Duty of Loyalty requires board directors to act in the best interest of the corporation and to:

- avoid conflict between the corporation’s interest and a director’s self-interest (actual or perceived conflict)
- avoid situations where a director may have competing fiduciary duties (e.g., an individual is on the board of two different organizations that have competing interests)
Conflict of Interest

141. (1) A director or an officer of a corporation shall disclose to the corporation, in writing or by requesting to have it entered in the minutes of meetings of directors or of committees of directors, the nature and extent of any interest that the director or officer has in a material contract or material transaction, whether made or proposed, with the corporation, if the director or officer

1. (a) is a party to the contract or transaction;
2. (b) is a director or an officer, or an individual acting in a similar capacity, of a party to the contract or transaction; or
3. (c) has a material interest in a party to the contract or transaction.
Comply with Board Confidentiality Policy. Failure to do so may result in:

- Harm to the organization
- Removal from the Board
If you breach your fiduciary duty, you are at risk of being found personally liable if the organization suffers a loss which can be attributed to your actions or omissions.

In each case, liability will depend upon the particular facts and circumstances at play and legal advice is critical.

Many corporation’s have director liability insurance which depending on the policy can protect directors from liability which might result from a breach of fiduciary duty, providing the breach was not a result of willful negligence.
Can avoid “duty of care” liability through showing:

(i) proper diligence and

(ii) good faith reliance on…

“(a) financial statements of the corporation represented to the director by an officer of the corporation or in a written report of the public accountant of the corporation fairly to reflect the financial condition of the corporation; or

(b) a report of a person whose profession lends credibility to a statement made by that person.”
